

ALL Situations Wanted
ADVERTISEMENTS IN THE WORLD, WEEK DAYS
OR SUNDAYS
20 Words Only 10
CENTS.

Weather
Indications—
Fair, cool.

EVENING EDITION

BROOKLYN
"Circulation Books Open to All."

2,772.
CORRESPONDING DAY 1892, 2034.

Weather Indications—Fair, cool.
Another
Record-Breaking Day.
Advertisements in The World yesterday.
2,772.
CORRESPONDING DAY 1892, 2034.

PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1893.

PRICE ONE CENT.

A Situation Wanted Adverts. ONLY 10 CENTS In The Morning World Week Days or Sundays

LAST EDITION

THE GOVERNOR URGES.

Preses Reynolds and Shepard to Act in Kings County.

Assures Them That All Prosecuting
Forces Will Support Them.

They Were Named on the Suggestion of the District-Attorney.

(By Associated Press.)

ALBANY, Nov. 16.—Gov. Flower to-day sent the following telegram to the Hon. George G. Reynolds and Edward M. Shepard, the gentlemen whom he recommended to District-Attorney Ridgway as proper persons to prosecute the recent election frauds in Kings County.

I see by published interviews that you have some hesitation in accepting the commission of the District-Attorney to take charge of the prosecutions in the recent election frauds. I sincerely hope you will not refuse to undertake the task. Your names were suggested by me to the District-Attorney after careful reflection, and I believe you are particularly fitted for undertaking the work, and the approval which the selection has received from the public shows how much confidence the people have in you.

I am assured by the District-Attorney that the entire machinery of his office will be placed at your command, and that you will have the complete charge of these prosecutions. If this is not sufficient, you may count on the active cooperation of myself and the Attorney-General to the full extent of our power.

If you are hampered in any improper way in bringing criminals to justice, I shall expect you to inform me of it, and you shall have my immediate assistance in the premises. Be assured that there is no power in this State to prevent you from vindicating the law and to bring the guilty to justice, no matter where they may be found.

ROSWELL P. FLOWER.

RIDGWAY NOTIFIES SHEPARD.

Judge Moore Formally Approves the Appointments.

District-Attorney James W. Ridgway, of Kings County, to-day formally appointed Edward M. Shepard and George G. Reynolds as special assistants to prosecute the election frauds in Brooklyn and the Gravesend out-rages.

The special prosecutors thus appointed will pay all their attention to the prosecution of John V. McKane and his associates in the election frauds in Kings County.

The following communications from Mr. Ridgway and Judge Moore to-day make the appointments of Mr. Shepard and Mr. Reynolds legal.

Mr. James W. Ridgway, District-Attorney of Kings County, to the Hon. George G. Reynolds and Edward M. Shepard, Esq.,

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 15th inst., in relation to the appointment of you and Mr. Shepard as special assistants to prosecute the election frauds in Kings County.

I have the honor to inform you that I have approved of your appointment, and that you are now authorized to prosecute the election frauds in Kings County.

I have the honor to inform you that I have approved of your appointment, and that you are now authorized to prosecute the election frauds in Kings County.

I have the honor to inform you that I have approved of your appointment, and that you are now authorized to prosecute the election frauds in Kings County.

I have the honor to inform you that I have approved of your appointment, and that you are now authorized to prosecute the election frauds in Kings County.

I have the honor to inform you that I have approved of your appointment, and that you are now authorized to prosecute the election frauds in Kings County.

I have the honor to inform you that I have approved of your appointment, and that you are now authorized to prosecute the election frauds in Kings County.

I have the honor to inform you that I have approved of your appointment, and that you are now authorized to prosecute the election frauds in Kings County.

I have the honor to inform you that I have approved of your appointment, and that you are now authorized to prosecute the election frauds in Kings County.

I have the honor to inform you that I have approved of your appointment, and that you are now authorized to prosecute the election frauds in Kings County.

BY THE CARDINAL. LICENSES REFUSED.

Ex-Secretary Elkins's Daughter Married to Edwin E. Bruner.

St. Patrick's Cathedral Thronged with a Brilliant Assemblage.

Archbishop Corrigan in the Sanctuary as a Spectator.

The great auditorium of St. Patrick's Cathedral was filled with distinguished people this morning, who gathered to witness the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Elkins, daughter of ex-Secretary of War Stephen B. Elkins, to Edwin E. Bruner, who is a nephew of the late E. S. Jeffray.

The altar and sanctuary were tastefully decorated by florists. A canopy of white satin ribbon and bunting was draped over the altar, and there were large bunches of white chrysanthemums on the communion railing.

Just under the altar were the bride and groom, who were seated on a throne of white satin ribbon and bunting, and were surrounded by a canopy of white satin ribbon and bunting.

The host was flanked on either side by tall tapers, and there were chairs for many dignitaries of the church on either side of the sanctuary.

Although the wedding was not to occur until 11 o'clock, spectators began to arrive at 10 o'clock, and were seated in the galleries and on the floor.

The bride was escorted by her father, Henry Walter Elkins, the bridegroom by William W. Niles. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father John J. Whelan, assisted by the Rev. Father John J. Whelan, and the Rev. Father John J. Whelan.

The Cardinal's throne was at the left of the altar, and the Archbishop's throne was at the right. The Cardinal's throne was at the left of the altar, and the Archbishop's throne was at the right.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

LICENSES REFUSED.

Tom Gould's Dummy's Application for Utopia Rejected.

Sixth Avenue Hotel and Hattie Adams's Old Place Proscribed.

Excise Commissioners Warned by "Evening World" Exposures.

The Board of Excise to-day rejected three applications for licenses on the ground that the resorts to be licensed were disorderly.

The rejected applications were those of John Francis Gallagher, for the "Utopia" cafe, 81 West Twenty-fourth street; Addison A. Pond, for the Sixth Avenue Hotel, Sixth Avenue and Forty-fourth street; and Schmidt & Rusec, for the houses from which Dr. Parkhurst ousted Hattie Adams and sent her to Blackwell's Island.

"The Evening World" called the Board's attention a week ago to the fact that Gallagher was Tom Gould's "dummy," and yesterday they summoned Mr. Gallagher before them.

He denied that Gould had any interest whatever in the place and vowed that he would kick him out if he ever entered the cafe.

The Board, however, learned that Henry W. Chapman, Gould's old backer, when Gallagher insisted he had bought out Gould, and was seated by his side. The Board, however, learned that Henry W. Chapman, Gould's old backer, when Gallagher insisted he had bought out Gould, and was seated by his side.

Although the wedding was not to occur until 11 o'clock, spectators began to arrive at 10 o'clock, and were seated in the galleries and on the floor.

The bride was escorted by her father, Henry Walter Elkins, the bridegroom by William W. Niles. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father John J. Whelan, assisted by the Rev. Father John J. Whelan, and the Rev. Father John J. Whelan.

The Cardinal's throne was at the left of the altar, and the Archbishop's throne was at the right. The Cardinal's throne was at the left of the altar, and the Archbishop's throne was at the right.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

The Cardinal, vested in a new and magnificent cope of silver, and the golden mitre on his head, and the crozier in his hand, performed the marriage ceremony.

GASHES IN HER HEAD.

Unknown Girl's Body Found Floating in the River.

From All Indications a Brutal Murder Has Been Done.

She Was Lightly Clad as Though Killed While Escaping.

The body of a young woman, whose face, despite several ghastly wounds, showed traces of beauty, was found floating in the East River at the foot of pier 12 this morning.

As soon as the policemen gazed upon it they knew they had another of the river's mysteries to grapple with. Beyond the shadow of a doubt she had been murdered.

Almost in the center of the forenoon, starting from the roof of her dark brown hair, was the wound that had laid open the skull down to the right eyebrow.

Another wound laid open the bone half way from the left ear across to the nose under the eye. There was still another wound showing where some instrument had crashed through the jaw, extending an inch or more down the neck on the left side.

Every wound seemed to have been made by a sharp hatchet, which left no jagged edge whatever. Almost any one of the men would have been sufficient to deliver it. They evidently had all been delivered by a strong hand, and the victim must have been in such a position that she was unable even to raise an arm in defense.

Any idea that the injuries could have been caused by the middle-wheel or propeller of some steamboat while the body was in the water was discarded by the fact that blood had trickled from every wound. Besides, the wounds were too clean cut.

Who the girl was, where she came from, or the identity of her murderer, are subjects which the police have to deal with.

She had not a single mark of identification. Her clothing will be examined in the morgue this afternoon.

The girl could not, from her appearance, have been more than twenty-four years old. It is not known for anything she was either an Irish or a German girl, probably an immigrant. The body had not been in the water more than two or three days.

Resides the cuts on the head there are many other things which carry out in their entirety the fact of the girl having been murdered. She was only half-dressed, wearing of steel and gold. Her clothing had evidently been put on hurriedly as if the girl, realizing her surroundings, was making haste to leave.

She had succeeded in pulling on her long dark gray or black stockings and her low-cut black shoes. Evidently she had not had time to put on the other shoe because it was lying on the pier. Her hair hung in loose masses over her face. It was cut in a bang.

Besides the cuts on the head, there was a red mark on the forehead, and a brown cheek mark, which had been on the face for some time. The girl was not more than three inches tall, and probably weighed about 135 pounds.

It was at 9 o'clock this morning when the body was first seen floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River. It was found by a man named John J. Whelan, who was a porter at the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

The body was first seen floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River. It was found by a man named John J. Whelan, who was a porter at the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

The body was first seen floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River. It was found by a man named John J. Whelan, who was a porter at the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

The body was first seen floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River. It was found by a man named John J. Whelan, who was a porter at the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

The body was first seen floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River. It was found by a man named John J. Whelan, who was a porter at the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

The body was first seen floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River. It was found by a man named John J. Whelan, who was a porter at the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

The body was first seen floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River. It was found by a man named John J. Whelan, who was a porter at the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

The body was first seen floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River. It was found by a man named John J. Whelan, who was a porter at the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

EL CID GETTING HER CREW.

Nicoll Is Convinced that It Was Not a Murder.

The Dead Man's Nephew Calls on the District-Attorney.

Articles Signed Relieving Men from Duty in the Navy.

District-Attorney Nicoll to-day began an investigation into the death of James Eugene Little, who died last Saturday. He has sent for Leon M. Little, the nephew of the dead man, and will take his sworn statement.

Dr. Philip G. Becker, who attended Mr. Little, made a sworn statement before the District-Attorney late yesterday afternoon to the effect that he found no evidence of poison, and the allegations of Leon M. Little were entirely unfounded.

In answer to Mr. Nicoll's letter yesterday, Mr. Little called at the District-Attorney's office this morning. In the absence of Mr. Nicoll, he had a talk with Assistant District-Attorney Henry W. Unger.

He stated that he had no other proofs to submit at present, except the declaration made by his uncle and inferences from the fact that he had been in his possession and which might turn out to be a clue.

Mr. Unger is authorized for the statement by Mr. Nicoll that the body of the dead man was found floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River.

Mr. Unger is authorized for the statement by Mr. Nicoll that the body of the dead man was found floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River.

Mr. Unger is authorized for the statement by Mr. Nicoll that the body of the dead man was found floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River.

Mr. Unger is authorized for the statement by Mr. Nicoll that the body of the dead man was found floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River.

Mr. Unger is authorized for the statement by Mr. Nicoll that the body of the dead man was found floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River.

Mr. Unger is authorized for the statement by Mr. Nicoll that the body of the dead man was found floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River.

Mr. Unger is authorized for the statement by Mr. Nicoll that the body of the dead man was found floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River.

Mr. Unger is authorized for the statement by Mr. Nicoll that the body of the dead man was found floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River.

Mr. Unger is authorized for the statement by Mr. Nicoll that the body of the dead man was found floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River.

Mr. Unger is authorized for the statement by Mr. Nicoll that the body of the dead man was found floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River.

Mr. Unger is authorized for the statement by Mr. Nicoll that the body of the dead man was found floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River.

Mr. Unger is authorized for the statement by Mr. Nicoll that the body of the dead man was found floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River.

Mr. Unger is authorized for the statement by Mr. Nicoll that the body of the dead man was found floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River.

Mr. Unger is authorized for the statement by Mr. Nicoll that the body of the dead man was found floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River.

Mr. Unger is authorized for the statement by Mr. Nicoll that the body of the dead man was found floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River.

Mr. Unger is authorized for the statement by Mr. Nicoll that the body of the dead man was found floating in the water, between pier 12 and 13, near the East River.

THE CRUISER STARTED TO-DAY.

Heavy Winds Interfered.

LAND'S END, ROCKPORT, MASS., Nov. 16.—At 10 A. M. to-day the cruiser Columbia had turned and prepared to cross the line for her official trip. She was going 23 knots, with the wind dead astern.

It had been broadside to seas, and the waves were making a clean sweep over her, at times hitting her from view.

At 10:43:30 A. M. she crossed the line and started off at racehorse speed. The wind was then about fifteen miles an hour, but at 11:25 it had increased to about twenty-five miles, and the cruiser was signally retarded, having given up the trial. She had passed the Kennerly, which was the second mark.

The Board of County Canvassers resumed this morning the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

THE CRUISER STARTED TO-DAY.

Heavy Winds Interfered.

LAND'S END, ROCKPORT, MASS., Nov. 16.—At 10 A. M. to-day the cruiser Columbia had turned and prepared to cross the line for her official trip. She was going 23 knots, with the wind dead astern.

It had been broadside to seas, and the waves were making a clean sweep over her, at times hitting her from view.

At 10:43:30 A. M. she crossed the line and started off at racehorse speed. The wind was then about fifteen miles an hour, but at 11:25 it had increased to about twenty-five miles, and the cruiser was signally retarded, having given up the trial. She had passed the Kennerly, which was the second mark.

The Board of County Canvassers resumed this morning the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans, said that over one hundred election inspectors had been guilty of violating section 41 of the Penal Code in making false returns.

He will present against the count of the vote, beginning with the Third District. After a long session, the special representative of Court of Appeals Judge-elect Bartlett and 10,000 other Republicans,